WHAT OTHER STATES ARE DOING

There are plenty of bills that will help veterans, military, or families of veteran or service member in just about, if not all the fifty states. Some of them are similar to bills we have in our general assembly. Some of them are unique to the states they are in and some are the 'Hey, why didn't I think of that' variety. There may also be a few bills that will make you shake your head in bewilderment.

We will take a look at some of the Vet/Military bill in other states. They are bills introduced within the past year or so. They may still be in committees, they may have passed out of committee, or they may have been signed into law. You can look at the progress of each by going to the websites of each of the state's legislature.

Maybe some of them will spark some interest and begin to grow in Ohio.

In the West Virginia General Assembly

Senate Bill 385: Establishing program to pay monthly allotment to all veterans who have been honorably discharged, who are 65 years of age or older, who served on active duty during a period of war, and who are not currently receiving a Federal Veterans Administration check for disability or retirement.

House Bill 4720: Provides a waiver of tuition and fees at state institutions of higher education and community and technical colleges for military veterans, their spouses, and dependents, when that veteran has a service-related disability of 50 percent or greater.

In the Rhode Island General Assembly

OUR OPINION

Yes! Restore Our Readiness

Who would name their resolution ROAR? Sounds a little undignified for a piece of legislation. But we think, as did the sponsors, that it is a very fitting name for HCR 9.

House Concurrent Resolution 9 is the work of Representatives Jennifer Gross (District 45) and Bernard Willis (District 74). The short title of the resolution is Adopt Restoration of America's Readiness (ROAR) Resolution. But it is the long title that tells the reader exactly what it is about.

Long title: To urge the United States Congress to restore the Department of Defense's superior warfighting principles of recruiting, assigning, training, promoting, and retaining personnel solely based on merit and ensuring such personnel maintain and display a warrior ethos, and to name this resolution the "Restoration of America's Readiness (ROAR) Resolution."

The Resolution's eight whereases clearly lays out the reasons for the three resolves. The whereases clearly point out that the United States has proven that she is the world's greatest warfighting nation for nearly as long as she has been a country. That it is chiefly due to the ability of her personnel to be kind and compassionate during times of peace while maintaining the ability to become willing and able to engage an enemy when the battles of war require it.

They further address the concern that during the past several years the D.O.D. and it's branches have engaged in some practices that are chipping away at the warfighting principles of our Armed Forces and could be putting our county's military dominance at risk.

The resolution lists five examples of the practices that are of concern.

- 1) Overemphasizing and relying on diversity and inclusion in all its forms, including gender, gender identity, race, and sexual preference, as a primary determinant in how military forces should be comprised without providing credible and verifiable evidence that such a prescribed composition results in higher job performance, unit effectiveness, and mission accomplishment, as opposed to a model in which a meritocracy-based force composition is used
- 2) Making nonsensical "unconscious bias" training mandatory for all military and civilian personnel
- 3) Instituting mandatory "emergency use only" COVID-19 vaccines with little regard to individual medical concerns in light of the Anthrax vaccine mandate problems of the late 1990s and denying almost all requests for exemptions based on religious grounds, which is particularly troubling given the recent decision by the United States Department of Defense to rescind the COVID-19 vaccine mandate
- 4) Requiring mandatory training at the United States Air Force Academy to incorporate "person-centered" and gender neutral language when describing individuals and to request cadets to consider using the term "parent" or "caregiver" rather than "mother" or "father" as not to offend those that may come from a different parenting background
- 5) Requiring mandatory indoctrination of every cadet at the United States Military Academy in Critical Race Theory, a theory focused on dividing the American population along racial lines, which ignores the progress accomplished within the United States since our Civil War of the 1860s, so as to manufacture voting blocks for radical politicians, and creates distrust of the leadership of the United States Army

Further whereases point out that the success of our military has always relied on the concept of recruiting, assigning, retaining, and advancing in rank based on aptitude and performance regardless of their "race, gender, sexual preference, or other person-centric identifiers." They claim that type of practice is one of the causes of low recruiting numbers and may cause those currently serving to refrain from reenlisting.

The resolution concludes with "therefore be it Resolved, That we, the members of the 135th General Assembly, urge the United States Congress to use its authorization and appropriation authorities to prohibit the use of such "woke" social engineering and experimentation practices, which are eroding military effectiveness, and to mandate a return to a merit-based system for military force development and composition resolved."

If passed as written in both chambers copies of HCR 9 would be sent to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Ohio delegation to the United States Congress.

Ohio Legislative Report believes that while all members of the armed forces should and must be able to get along with those they live, work, fight, sleep, and eat with, the practices currently being used by the D.O.D. go beyond what is necessary and has an adverse effect on today's military. OLR supports this resolution.
